Statement

I hereby declare:

Due to the fact that my aspiration to strengthen the security of the European Union, the United States and international security in general is condemned - from August 28, I stop my activity in the issue related to the solution of theoretical or potential threats coming from the possibility of producing fake money or creating real money through cryptocurrency and blockchain, based on emptiness or deception.

My activity stops at the following:

1. Develop an international program to control all transactions and the sites or systems that service or record transactions
2. Identification of each crypto unit with a special number so that each crypto unit, be it a cryptocurrency or a stablecoin, is transparent to central banks and the Federal Reserve System. Unlike DLT, which ensures the recording of transactions under certain conditions or certain technical capabilities and works with an existing cryptocurrency within one platform or system, the identification of each crypto unit will complicate or eliminate the possibility of producing or legalizing fake money, using different platforms and payment systems to carry out complex combinations and implement complex schemes.
3. US, EU, UK and/or Common International Measure to Strengthen the Liability of Payment Systems, Cryptocurrency Exchanges and Other Vendors to Prevent the Use of Different Platforms to Interact with or Perform Transactions Related to Fake Money or Real Money Created Out of Thin Air Through Complex Schemes

The variability of the implementation of various schemes and the possibility of constructing vulnerabilities for their further use or using existing vulnerabilities to achieve goals related to the production of fake (counterfeit) digital money or cryptocurrencies can be very extensive, so each key component (transactions, crypto unit, payment systems) must be strengthened in security or special regulations must be created to strengthen control or responsibility.

The responsibility for the economic crisis in the USA, Great Britain and the European Union, based on the issuance of fake money or its legalization in the real economy, will be placed on the current governments and current officials.

I will continue to engage in other activities related to economic security or economic development.

In case of necessity or particularly critical conditions of economic security or processes capable of destabilizing the security of the economy, I hereby confirm my readiness to continue to be active in the future.
